Neural speech synthesis models generate natural acoustic signals from written text. Vocal duration predicts the timing of speech. Speech ends with a stable acoustic waveform.

Robot arm control relies on inverse kinematics to determine the joint angles. Motor commands regulate arm movement. Robotics ends with a stable gripper pose.